2016 SCHEDULE

For the fourth time in the last five years, Clemson will open and close its season against teams from the Southeastern Conference according to the schedule released by the Atlantic Coast Conference in February. The Tigers open their 12-game slate at Auburn on September 3, and close it with a home game against South Carolina on November 26.

In between, Clemson will play 10 contests, eight against teams from the ACC. The Tigers were 8-0 in the league last season, then won the ACC title for the second time in five years with a league championship win over North Carolina. In 2016, Clemson has ACC road games against Georgia Tech, Boston College, Florida State and Wake Forest and home league games with Louisville, NC State, Syracuse and Pittsburgh.

"This schedule follows our formula from a non-conference standpoint with our traditional rivalry game against South Carolina, plus another game from a Power Five Conference," said Head Coach Dabo Swinney. "This year, that team is Auburn, and they will come to Clemson in 2017. Then we pick up Texas A&M for two years before we play Notre Dame again in 2020.

"It is another challenging schedule overall. We will have to be at our best from the first week, as Auburn is a very difficult place to play. We saw that in 2010 when we took a National Championship Auburn team to overtime.

"I like the position of the open date in week eight, closer to the middle of the season than we have had in recent years. It is also just the second time in 24 years we have not had to play consecutive games on the road, which is good for our team and our fans.

"We have four new teams on the schedule, including an outstanding Pittsburgh program, who we have not played in nearly 40 years."

Clemson opens the season at Auburn, the first time the Tigers have been to the Plains since the third week of the 2010 season when the ACC Tigers took Cam Newton and the SEC Tigers to overtime before dropping a 27-24 contest. Clemson has beaten Auburn twice since that meeting six years ago.

The Tigers have consecutive home games scheduled September 10 and 17, respectively. Troy comes to Clemson for the second time in history on the former date and South Carolina State follows the next week. Clemson has a 16-game home winning streak entering 2016, the second longest active streak in the nation.

The Tigers go back on the road on September 22 — just five days after the SC State game — to face Georgia Tech in Atlanta. Clemson suffered its most recent regular season loss at Georgia Tech in November 2014.

Clemson's ACC home opener is against Louisville on October 1. The Tigers have won each of the first two meetings with the Cardinals since they joined the ACC, but both games have been close. Clemson won the meeting at home in 2014 by a 23-17 score, then downed the Cardinals, 20-17, in Louisville last year. That was the second closest game Clemson had during its undefeated regular season in 2015.

Swinney's team then plays at Boston College on Friday night October 7. It will be Clemson's first Friday night regular season game in 60 years, but the Tigers did gain victory in their last Friday night game at any point in the season. That came in the 2014 Orange Bowl, when Clemson beat a sixth-ranked Ohio State team in Miami, 40-35.

Clemson opens the second half of its schedule with a home game against an NC State team that has been to a bowl game each of the last two years under Head Coach Dave Doeren.

After an open date, Clemson heads to Tallahassee, Fla., to face Florida State on October 29, a program that has won at least 10 games each of the last four years. The winner of the Clemson vs.

Clemson's last regular season win on a Friday actually took place in Boston when the Tigers defeated Boston College at Braves Field, 13-0 on Halloween, in 1952 ... as a result of the Thursday and Friday road games in the first half of the schedule, Clemson will not have a road Saturday game between September 4 and October 28.

Florida State game has won the ACC Atlantic Division every year since 2008, Swinney's first year at Clemson.

Clemson closes the regular season with home games in three of its last four contests, the first time that has been the case since 2012. Syracuse comes to Clemson on November 5, then Pittsburgh plays at Clemson for the first time on November 12. Just as the Tigers did in 2014, the program will celebrate Senior Day in the next to last home game.

The Tigers conclude their ACC schedule and road schedule on November 19 at Wake Forest. South Carolina will be the final opponent in Death Valley on November 26.

2016 OUTLOOK

The 2015 Clemson football season was a landmark campaign in many ways. The Tigers finished with a 14-1 record, won the ACC Championship with a perfect 9-0 record and defeated three top-10 teams for just the second time in history. The Tigers were ranked No. 2 in the final polls, the second highest ranking in school history, and held the No. 1 ranking in all six of the College Football Playoff polls that led up to the bowl season.

Clemson became just the eighth team in FBS history to win 14 games (Alabama became the ninth after winning the title) in one season. The Tigers reached this level of play thanks to balance on both sides of the ball. Clemson was the only team in the nation to rank in the final top 25 in scoring offense and defense, total offense and defense, passing offense and defense, and rushing offense and defense.

Clemson was the only school in the top 15 in both total offense and defense, and had an average total offense advantage of +200 yards per game, second-largest in the nation.

There were many victories that will hold steadfast in the minds of Clemson fans for years to come. In October, the Tigers beat sixth-ranked Notre Dame in Memorial Stadium, 24-22, a victory that came down to the final seven seconds. A 23-13 win over 17th-ranked Florida State gave the Tigers the ACC Atlantic Division title.

For the first time in history, Clemson won consecutive games over top-10 teams, a 45-37 win over No. 8 North Carolina in the ACC Championship game and 37-17 triumph over No. 3 (USA Today poll) Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl in the National Semifinal.

Clemson's program has made a steady progression under Dabo Swinney over the last five years when it has won at least 10 games each season, something only the Tigers and Alabama have done. That includes a 46-8 record by the recently graduated senior class, the most wins for a four-year period in Clemson history.

The No. 2 final ranking was rewarding, but Swinney's focus is ending at No. 1.

"Spring and preseason practice are about getting to No. 1 (final ranking)," he said. "I am proud of what we did last year, but the offseason has been and will be about studying ourselves, our quality control, and challenging ourselves to evaluate what we do and how we do it."

A look to the 2016 roster shows that this era of success has a great chance to continue. The Tigers had a record 17 players selected first, second or third-team All-ACC in 2015, and 11 of them return. That includes seven on the offensive side of the ball (eight if you include wide receiver Mike Williams, who was second-team All-ACC in 2014).

Clemson returns eight starters from an offense that averaged a school record 514 yards per game and averaged 38.5 points per contest. That includes a 550-yard, 40-point performance against Alabama's No. 3 ranked defense in the national title game.

Defensively, the Tigers return just four starters from the 2015 unit that ranked 10th in total defense, second in pass completion defense and fourth in sacks. For the third straight year, Clemson led the nation in total tackles for loss.

Six starters from last year's defense decided to turn professional early, most in school history. That includes consensus All-American Shaq Lawson, All-America defensive backs Mackensie Alexander and Jayron Kearse, and defensive end Kevin Dodd, who ranked second in the nation in tackles for loss. Safety T.J. Green and his 130 tackles, and Travis Blanks, who had 30 career starts and left after graduating, also departed with eligibility remaining.

Defensive coordinator Brent Venables faced the same experience issue entering the 2015 season when he returned just three starters on defense, the fewest for the program since 1979.

Clemson returns its starting punter and place-kicker, giving the Tigers 14 returning starters from last season among 52 returning lettermen. Two players who started in 2014, Williams and line-backer Korrin Wiggins, are also back, giving Clemson 16 returning players with starting experience for the course of a season.

While the outlook is bright, Clemson is a young team this year with just 22 scholarship juniors and seniors and 63 freshmen or redshirt freshmen and sophomores.

"We have some players who can play right now, but we have a lot of young players who will have to learn," Swinney said. "That is what we do in the spring and the fall camp. We have to set a great foundation from a depth standpoint. We have to be ready from the start, especially since we open at Auburn."

OFFENSE

As stated above, Clemson returns nine players on offense who have been starters for at least one season previously. Eight of them have made an All-ACC team at one time or another, the most returning all-conference players on the offensive side of the ball in school history.

The Tigers return the only quarterback in FBS history to have 4,000 passing and 1,000 rushing yards in a season, the school's single season record holder in terms of rushing yardage, a receiver who ranks in the top five in school history in total receptions, another receiver who has a 1,000-yard season on his résumé, a tight end who was a Mackey Award finalist in 2015, a unanimous freshman All-American tackle, and two other offensive linemen who were all-conference in 2015.

All that core of returning players for 2016 did was become the first ACC team in history to gain at least 3,000 rushing and 4,000 passing yards in a season. The balanced attack accounted for 34 rushing touchdowns and 35 through the air. Clemson finished the season with a record streak of 11 straight games with at least 500 yards of total offense. The previous record was five games.

"A year ago at this time (preseason 2015) we had a lot of question marks on offense. Deshaun Watson did not go through spring practice, so there were some questions about how he would hold up coming off a knee injury. Mitch Hyatt is no longer a myth. We saw what he could do last year when he played over 1,000 snaps. We had other young and inexperienced linemen come through.

"We have a lot of veterans returning on offense, including our quarterback, who I thought was the best player in the nation last year. He is a year more experienced and more comfortable. The sky is the limit for that young man."

Watson finished his sophomore slate with 1,105 yards on the ground and 12 rushing scores. He was third in the nation in total rushing yards by a quarterback and broke the Clemson record set by Woodrow Dantzler. He had five 100-yard rushing games over the last seven contests and averaged 103 per game during that stretch.

The native of Gainesville, Ga., completed 333 of 491 passes for 4,104 yards and 35 touchdowns. His 5,209 yards of total offense set an ACC record. He closed the season with 478 yards of total offense, including 405 yards passing and four scores, against Alabama's third ranked defense. The 478 yards of total offense were a record for a championship game.

At season's end Watson was the consensus first-team All-America quarterback, a first in Clemson history, and was third in the voting for the Heisman Trophy, the highest finish in that award balloting in history.

Watson will have plenty of weapons at his disposal in 2016. His receiver unit features returning first-team All-ACC pass catcher Artavis Scott. The junior has led Clemson in receptions each of the last two years. He had 93 catches for 901 yards and six touchdowns a year ago when his reception total was second best in Clemson history. Only Sammy Watkins (2013) has had more catches in a season than Scott.

Williams played just 12 snaps last season and had two receptions for 20 yards and a score. All of that came in the first quarter of the 2015 season. Williams suffered a neck injury while catching a scoring pass against Wofford in the first quarter of the opener and was out for the season. In 2014, Williams led Clemson in receiving yards with 1,030 on 57 catches and he ranked among the top 20 players in the nation in yards per catch (min 50 catches) with an 18.1 average.

Hunter Renfrow was the talk of the country during the College Football Playoff when he caught three scoring passes, including two in the National Championship Game against Alabama. The original walk-on from Myrtle Beach finished the year with 33 catches for 492 yards and five scores. He also had a unique ability to draw interference penalties.

Deon Cain had a strong freshman year with 34 catches for 582 yards and five scores. The native of Florida had a streak of five straight games with a touchdown catch, breaking the Clemson freshman record that had been held by Watkins. He had 5-96 and a score at South Carolina to key Clemson's first win in Columbia since 2007.

Ray-Ray McCloud is another youngster with a strong upside. He had 29 catches as a true freshman for 251 yards and a score. He is also a capable runner out of the backfield. Trevion Thompson had a big reception in the win over South Carolina and finished his freshman year with 10 catches for 115 yards.

Wayne Gallman set the Clemson single-season rushing record in grand style with 1,527 yards in 14 games. That total was 182 yards more than Raymond Priester accumulated 20 years earlier.

Gallman also broke the school record for yards from scrimmage in a season with 1,740, as he contributed 213 receiving yards on 21 receptions. That record had been held by all-time great C.J. Spiller, who had 1,727 yards from scrimmage in 2009 when he finished sixth in the Heisman Trophy race.

Gallman finished the season with a record nine 100-yard rushing games and has 12 for his two years in the Clemson backfield. He needs just four 100-yard games to break Priester's career record.

Adam Choice actually has the second most career rushing yards among returning running backs with 218 in just six games as a freshman in 2014. Choice was ahead of Gallman on the depth chart at midseason that year when he suffered a torn ACL at Boston College. He missed all of last year, but is expected to be 100 percent his fall.

C.J. Fuller had 171 yards rushing in 2015 as a freshman and is second among returning rushers for this year, while Tyson Dye also will be a factor in the backfield.

Jordan Leggett gives Watson another target on offense. A second-team All-American by several services, Leggett was one of three finalists for the Mackey Award in 2015 when he had 40 receptions for 525 yards and eight scores. The native of Florida needs just 28 receptions, 394 yards and two scores to become Clemson's career leader among tight ends in all three categories.

Clemson returns three starters on the offensive line. Center Jay Guillermo leads the way after making second-team All-ACC as a junior when he was named ACC Offensive Lineman of the Week three times, tying a Clemson record for player of the week selections by an offensive lineman.

Hyatt, starting left tackle, came to Clemson as a high school All-American and five-star prospect and he lived up to his billing. He was a third-team All-ACC selection, the first true freshman offensive lineman in Clemson history to be named to any All-ACC team. He was named ACC Offensive Lineman of the Week for Clemson's win over Florida State, the first true freshman in Clemson history to earn that honor.

Tyrone Crowder is a redshirt junior who made third-team All-ACC as a sophomore and gives the Tigers stability at the guard position. Maverick Morris gained a lot of experience as a reserve last year and will challenge Crowder for playing time.

There are many young offensive linemen who figure to challenge for starting positions at the other two vacancies. Taylor Hearn is a strong guard who played 180 snaps in 14 games as a redshirt freshman, while Jake Fruhmorgen played 245 snaps in 11 games as a true freshman tackle.

Justin Falcinelli is a lineman capable of playing many positions.

DEFENSE

Venables has faced this challenge before. And he doesn't have to dig very far into his personal archives to look at his notes on how to replace at least seven starters in a season.

Clemson had six seniors off its 2014 defense play in an NFL game in 2015. That included two first-round draft picks, Vic Beasley and Stephane Anthony.

Now, six underclassmen off his 2015 defense turned pro early. But, Swinney feels he has the talent to keep Clemson at a level of excellence on the defensive side of the ball.

"I am pleased where we are on defense," said Swinney. "I'm encouraged because I believe we will have more competitive depth than we had last year."

"Last year our first 11 could play against anybody, but after that there were so many freshmen that we held our breath that the first team guys did not get hurt. There was not a drop off in talent, but there was in terms of experience. We were fortunate last year on defense from a health standpoint."

While Swinney has just four returning starters on defense, three of them were All-ACC performers in 2015 when Clemson ranked in the top 10 in the nation in six different defensive categories, including sacks and tackles for loss. He has a returning all-conference performer at each level of defense, something few coaches can claim.

Ben Boulware is the emotional leader of the defense from his linebacker position. The senior had 138 tackles last year to rank second on the team behind senior B.J. Goodson. Boulware had 23 quarterback pressures, more than any other Tiger (yes, more than Lawson and Dodd), and he had eight tackles for loss and 3.5 sacks.

HUNTER RENFROW

2016 OUTLOOK

The native of nearby Anderson, S.C., added two interceptions, including one in the Orange Bowl win over Oklahoma when he was named the game's top defensive player. He is the only linebacker in Clemson history to have an interception in a bowl game two years in a row.

Replacing Goodson and Blanks won't be easy. Goodson led Clemson in tackles in seven games, including all three games in December and January against top-10 teams North Carolina, Oklahoma and Alabama.

But there is some experience returning. Dorian O'Daniel is a lot like Goodson in that he has been a backup his first two years and is ready to move into a prominent role. O'Daniel had 19 tackles on special teams last year, 12 more than any other player.

Wiggins will be a strong candidate to replace Blanks. Wiggins suffered a torn ACL in August 2015 and was lost for the year. He started six games and had 40 tackles on the 2014 defense that led the nation in 12 categories, including total defense.

There are many other young linebackers in the mix for important playing time. Kendall Joseph missed half the season due to various injuries, but had 11 stops and four quarterback pressures in limited time. He made a big play against Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl on a fourth down. Jalen Williams played in all 15 games and had 15 tackles in 2015. Twin brothers J.D. Davis and Judah Davis combined for 15 tackles as reserve linebackers.

Clemson's defensive line has featured great depth during this run of five consecutive seasons of at least 10 wins and that should be the case again this year. The line features the return of an All-ACC player and a freshman All-American, plus a third player who is a returning starter.

Fifth-year senior Carlos Watkins returns to lead the defensive line. The native of Forest City, N.C., was a first-team All-ACC selection in 2015 when he had 69 tackles and eight tackles for loss to go with 3.5 sacks.

He started 14 of the 15 games and had one of the most memorable plays of the year when he took on two Notre Dame offensive linemen and stopped Irish quarterback Deshaun Kiser at the one-yard-line on a two-point play with seven seconds left.

Scott Pagano is a second returning starter at the defensive tackle position. The native of Hawaii started nine games a year ago and had 51 tackles in 352 snaps. He was a big reason Clemson allowed just 125 yards a game rushing last year.

Christian Wilkins started just one game, but had 84 tackles in 473 plays, more stops than any other defensive tackle. The first-team freshman All-American had 10 tackles in the win over Louisville, but he will be remembered the most for his 31-yard pass reception on a fake punt against Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl, a play that changed the momentum of the game.

Jabril Robinson is another defensive tackle who will see playing time. The sophomore had a productive 14 tackles in just 67 plays as a run stopper in 2015. Albert Huggins is another sophomore with promise who had 12 tackles in five games.

Clemson must replace Lawson and Dodd at the defensive end positions. They combined for 49 tackles for loss in 2015, more than any defensive duo in Clemson history. But lettermen Austin Bryant and Richard Yeargin have returned after their respective freshman seasons.

Bryant saw considerable action against Oklahoma after Lawson was hurt in the first quarter. He finished 2015 with 35 tackles in 219 snaps over 13 games, including eight in 63 plays against the Sooners. Yeargin had 15 tackles in 147 snaps in 10 games.

The secondary is led by cornerback Cordrea Tankersley, a third-team All-ACC selection last year who led the team and ranked 20th in the nation in interceptions with five. ## CLEMSON RECORDS FIRST 8-0 ACC SEASON

Clemson finished the ACC season with an 8-0 regular season record. It was the first 8-0 ACC season in Clemson history. Clemson has been an undefeated ACC Champion now five times, 1967, 1978, 1981, 1982 and 2015.

All four of the previous years the Tigers were just 6-0. In 1983, the first year Georgia Tech was in the league, Clemson was 7-0 vs. ACC teams, but the Tigers were on probation that year and could not claim a championship.

The ACC has now had three 8-0 champions in the last five years, Virginia Tech in 2010 and Florida State in 2013 and 2014. But, every ACC Champion had at least one loss from 2001-09.

Clemson was actually 9-0 vs. ACC teams in 2015 as the Tigers defeated North Carolina in the ACC Championship game.

CLEMSON HAS NINTH LONGEST BOWL STREAK

Clemson has been to a bowl game every year since 2005, or a streak of 11 consecutive years. That is tied for the ninth longest streak in the nation. The streak began when Clemson beat Colorado in the Champs Sports Bowl.

The last year Clemson did not go to a bowl was 2004 and the Tigers were bowl eligible that year. So, Clemson has a streak of 17 consecutive years of bowl eligibility.

The ACC is well represented on the chart below. Florida State has the longest streak at 34 years, Virginia Tech is second at 23 years in a row.

OFFENSE WAS BALANCED IN 2015

One of the reasons for Clemson's success in 2015 was its balanced offense. Clemson ranked in the top 25 in the nation in 14 different categories last year, including the four major categories of scoring offense, total offense, rushing offense and passing offense. Clemson was seventh in completion percentage, eighth in first downs/game, 13th in third down conversion percentage and ninth in total touchdowns scored. The Tigers had 35 touchdown passes and 34 touchdown runs.

Clemson ran 1207 plays, most in the nation and had exactly 100 plays of 20 yards or more, second in the nation.

Clemson's 71 total touchdowns, 514.5 yards per game, 1207 plays, 393 first downs, 100 plays of 20 yards or more and 7718 yards of total offense were all school records for a season.

OFFENSE AMONG NATION'S BEST IN 2015

With a new co-coordinator system, Clemson had its best offense in history in some areas during the 2015 season. Co-coordinators and former Clemson teammates Tony Elliott and Jeff Scott were wide receivers together at Clemson from 2000-02 and they joined forces to lead the Clemson offense to 514.5 yards per game, an all-time school record.

That season long performance included a school record 12 games with at least 500 yards, including a streak of 11 straight 500-yard games to end the season. Clemson was successful against the top teams as well. The Tigers had 532 yards against Boston College's No. 1 total defense and 550 against Alabama's No. 3 ranked total defense.

The unit had incredible balance as the Tigers had 35 touchdowns passing and 34 touchdowns rushing. Eight times they had at least 200 yards rushing and 200 yards passing in the same game, most in one season. The Tigers averaged 223 yards rushing and 291 yards passing per game.

Clemson also became the first ACC school to have at least 3,000 yards rushing and 4,000 yards passing in the same season. Clemson was the only school in the nation to do it in 2015 and just the ninth team to do it in FBS history.

OFFENSE SET HIGH MARKS VS. ALABAMA IN 2015

Clemson's most impressive offensive performance of 2015 might have been in the National Championship game against Alabama. The Crimson Tide had one of the best defenses in the nation and ranked in the top five in a number of key areas, including third in total defense, first in rushing defense and second in scoring defense and yards per play in the final stats.

Behind quarterback Deshaun Watson, the Tigers scored 40 points and had 550 yards of total offense, including 405 threw the air. Watson threw for four scores and had 478 yards of total offense. Clemson's 550 yards, 40 points, 145 yards rushing and 405 yards passing were nearly double in all categories the Crimson Tide averaged on defense for the year.

Clemson was the only school in the nation to finish in the top dozen in both areas.

Clemson was also in the top 25 in scoring offense and defense, rushing offense and defense, passing offense and defense, passing efficiency offense and defense, first downs/ game, completion percentage, sacks and third down conversions.

DEFENSIVE RANKINGS UNDER BRENT VENABLES

Clemson defensive coordinator Brent Venables has led the Tigers defense to some outstanding national rankings over his four years as defensive coordinator, especially over the last two years. Clemson ranked first in the nation in total defense in 2014, then ranked 10th in 2015. The 2015 ranking was quite an accomplishment considering Venables lost eight starters from his 2014 defense.

Clemson ranked first in the nation in pass efficiency defense in 2014 and 11th in 2015. The Tigers were in the top five in completion percentage defense each of the last two years and in the top four in third down conversion defense in both 2014 and 2015. Overall, Clemson led the nation in 12 different defensive categories in 2014 and ranked in the top 10 in six of those areas in 2015.

The aggressive approach has paid off for Venables as Clemson has led the nation in total tackles for loss each of the last three years with 123 in 2013, 131 in 2014 and 126 in 2015.

WINNING MARK VS. NOTRE DAME, OHIO STATE AND OKLAHOMA

Thanks to a recent run of four straight wins under Dabo Swinney in the last three years, Clemson is now the only FBS school with a winning record against Notre Dame, Ohio State and Oklahoma.

Clemson is 2-1 against Notre Dame after its 24-22 win this year. The Tigers are now 3-2 against Oklahoma, including bowl wins each of the last two years, and 2-0 vs. Ohio State, including a 40-35 win in the 2014 Orange Bowl.

Given a minimum of two games played, Notre Dame has a losing record against just six FBS schools (Clemson, Florida State, Michigan, Nebraska, Ohio State and Oregon State).

Oklahoma also has a losing mark against just six schools (BYU, Clemson, Miami, Northwestern, Notre Dame and Southern California).

Ohio State has a losing mark against seven schools (Florida State, Alabama, Clemson, Florida, South Carolina, Stanford and Texas). Clemson is the only common denominator.

RECORD NUMBER OF ALL-ACC PLAYERS RETURN

Clemson had a record 17 players named first, second or third team All-ACC by the ACC media and the ACC Coaches last year. It was the most All-ACC players in one year in school history by a large margin. The previous record was 12, set in 1989 when Danny Ford's last team had nine first-team selections and three second-team choices, and in 1990 when Clemson had eight first-team and four second-team.

Clemson had 10 first team selections, three second-team and four third-team selections in 2015. (We use the highest ranking team for each player.) The 10 first-team selections tied the record for first team selections in one year set by the 1978 team. The 1989 and 1991 Clemson teams also had nine first team selections.

In terms of returning players who made any All-ACC team, Clemson has a record 11 players returning from 2015. The previous high was nine returning All-ACC players for the 1990 season off the 1989 team.

This year's 11 returning All-ACC players includes six first-team selections, two second-team and three third-team. It is the most returning first team selections since 1990 when Clemson had six returning first teamers off the 1989 team. The 1978 team had six returning first-team All-ACC players from the 1977 season.

Clemson actually has 12 returning All-ACC players overall because Mike Williams was a second-team receiver during the 2014 season, but missed last year due to injury.

Clemson has eight offensive returning players who made an All-ACC team previously in their Clemson careers and three on defense. Kicker Greg Huegel is the 12th.

THREE TIGERS NAMED TO ALL-ACC ACADEMIC TEAM

Ben Boulware, Eric Mac Lain and Christian Wilkins were all named to the Academic All-ACC football team for 2015. To be eligible for consideration for the team, a student-athlete must have earned a 3.00 grade point average for the previous semester and maintained a 3.00 cumulative average during his undergraduate academic career. Graduate students needed to maintain at least a 3.5 grade point average for both the previous semester and for their graduate school careers.

All 14 ACC schools were represented on the team. The ACC has selected an All-ACC Academic Football team every year since 1954. The team was chosen from a pool of 140 ACC football student-athletes who were nominated by their schools.

Boulware and Mac Lain both made the first-team All-ACC squad on the field as chosen by the ACC Coaches this year. Boulware and Mac Lain were the first Clemson student-athletes to make the All-ACC team on the field and in the classroom in the same year regardless of position since 2012 when Dalton Freeman and Brandon Ford accomplished the feat. Clemson and Duke were the only schools with two players named first-team All-ACC on the field and in the classroom.

Boulware was named Academic All-ACC for the second time in his career, as the junior was also named as a freshman in 2013. Boulware is the first Clemson defensive player named first-team All-ACC on the field and in the classroom in the same year since 1988 when Mark Drag was named.

Boulware, a business major, finished the year with 138 tackles, second on the team behind senior B.J. Goodson (160). The native of Anderson, S.C. also had eight tackles for loss, 3.5 sacks, seven passes broken up, two interceptions and a team best 23 quarterback pressures. He was named the Defensive Most Valuable Player of Clemson's Orange Bowl victory over Oklahoma.

Mac Lain graduated from Clemson in December and studied athletic leadership this past semester as a graduate student. He was named first-team All-ACC by the ACC Media and the Coaches. He started all 15 games in 2015 and was a major reason Clemson became the first ACC school with at least 4,000 yards passing and 3,000 rushing in the same season.

Wilkins was named a first-team Freshman All-American in addition to his academic honors. The freshman communications major from Springfield, Mass. finished the season with 84 tackles, seventh best on the 2015 team, but second among returning players for 2016. He had 4.5 tackles for loss, including a pair of sacks.

FOUR TIGERS NAMED TO ALL-BOWL TEAMS

Four Clemson football players were named to various All-Bowl teams for the 2015 season. The list of players honored for their performances against Oklahoma and Alabama during the bowl season were quarterback Deshaun Watson, offensive guard Eric Mac Lain, offensive tackle Mitch Hyatt and defensive end Kevin Dodd.

Watson was named to All-Bowl teams chosen by ESPN, USA Today, and Sports Illustrated. The sophomore signal caller threw for 405 yards and rushed for 73 for a College Football Playoff championship game record of 478 yards of total offense. He also threw for four touchdown passes in Clemson's loss to Alabama in the championship game.

Mac Lain, who started all 15 games in 2015 on the offensive line, was named to All-Bowl teams chosen by ESPN, Rivals.com and the Associated Press. He was a big reason Clemson gained 550 yards of total offense against Alabama's defense, the No. 2 ranked total defense in the nation entering the game. Clemson was just the second team to score over 20 points against the Crimson Tide in 2015.

Hyatt, a true freshman who made every freshman All-America team in 2015, was also a big factor in the Tigers productive offense. He played 85 snaps and graded 87 percent in helping the Tigers score five touchdowns against Alabama. He was named to the All-Bowl team selected by USA Today.

Dodd set a Clemson bowl game record with five tackles for loss, including three sacks against Alabama. He was named to All-Bowl teams selected by ESPN, USA Today and Si.com. The 5.0 tackles for loss were the most in the nation by any player in the bowl season. He also had 3.5 tackles for loss in the win over Oklahoma, giving him 8.5 tackles for loss in the bowl season. Dodd finished the season with 23.5 tackles for loss, second nationally to the 25.5 recorded by teammate Shaq Lawson.

FOUR TIGERS NAMED FRESHMAN ALL-AMERICANS IN 2015

Mitch Hyatt, Christian Wilkins, Deon Cain, and Greg Huegel were all named to Freshman All-America teams in 2015. Hyatt was named first-team by all six services that named a team. That list included the Football Writers Association, Scout.com, Sporting News, Campusinsiders.com, ESPN.com and USA Today.

Wilkins was named first-team freshman All-American by the Football Writers, Scout.com and Sporting News.

Hyatt started every game at left tackle for Clemson's 14-1 team that finished No. 2 in the nation in 2015 and played for the National Championship. He played 1,049 snaps for the year, more than any other freshman at any position in Clemson history, and started all 15 games at left tackle. He was named ACC offensive Lineman of the Week in Clemson's win over Florida State, the first true freshman in Clemson history to win offensive lineman of the week. He was a third-team All-ACC selection by both the coaches and the media, the first Clemson freshman lineman to make an All-ACC team.

Wilkins led Clemson's interior defense in tackles this year with 84, including 4.5 tackles for loss and 2.5 sacks. He had a season high 10 tackles in Clemson's win at Louisville in the third game of the season. His most famous play took place in the Orange Bowl against Oklahoma when he caught a 31-yard pass on a fake punt by Andy Teasdale.

Cain was named to ESPN's True Freshman All-America team. The native of Florida had 34 catches for 582 yards and five touchdowns. His 17.1 yards per catch figure led the team and he was third on the team in reception yardage.

Huegel led the nation in total field goals made with 27 in 32 attempts. He scored a Clemson record 138 points and was 17-17 on field goals in ACC games, the best percentage in the nation in conference play. He made 16 consecutive field goals at one point, second longest streak in Clemson history. The freshman kicker was named a second-team All-American by Si.com, the first Clemson walk-on in history to earn All-America honors while still a walk-on.

SIX TIGERS NAMED TO ALL-AMERICA TEAMS

A record six Clemson football players were named to various first, second or third-team All-America squads in 2015. The previous record for selections to All-America first, second or third teams was five set by Clemson's 1981 National Championship team.

NINE NEW STARTING LINEMEN, YET RANKED NO. 1

Clemson achieved a No. 1 national ranking entering the 2015 National Championship game with a combined zero returning starters in the offensive and defensive lines from the previous season. Has a team ever reached No. 1 ranked status with such inexperience in the lines? We haven't found one.

Clemson had one returning starter in the offensive line when the season started. That was two-year starter Ryan Norton at center, but he suffered a knee injury in the second game of the year and played just 96 snaps all year in five games.

A look to the chart below shows that the starting offensive line for the 2015 Tigers had a combined six starts entering the year. The defensive line also had six career starts entering the year.

But, key reserves from previous years have stepped up when given the opportunity and as a result Clemson is ranked in the top 25 in the nation in total offense, total defense, scoring offense and scoring defense. Incredibly, eight of the nine made an All-ACC team this year.

SWINNEY EARNS COACH OF THE YEAR

Clemson Head Coach Dabo Swinney was the recipient of the Bear Bryant National Coach of the Year Award for 2015. The honor was presented in January in Houston, Tex, just one night after Swinney won the American Football Coaches Association National Coach of the Year Award in San Antonio. Swinney is the first ACC coach to win the award.

The Bryant Award is voted on by the National Sportscasters and Sportswriters Association, and proceeds from the awards ceremony benefit the American Heart Association. The College Football Coach of the Year Award began in 1957 and was renamed for Bryant in 1986. Bryant himself won the AFCA Coach of the Year award in 1961, 1971, and 1973.

Swinney won 12 Coach of the Year awards for the 2015 season. The list is below.

Swinney just concluded his seventh full season as the Tigers head coach and he has posted a 75-27 record. He led the Tigers to a 14-1 record in 2015, the most victories in school history and just the eighth team in FBS history to win 14 games in a season. Clemson finished the season ranked No. 2 in the AP and USA Today polls after the Tigers lost to Alabama in the College Football Playoff National Championship Game by a narrow 45-40 margin.

Swinney led Clemson to an 8-0 record in the ACC and league championship game victory over an eighth-ranked North Carolina team. The Tigers defeated sixth-ranked Notre Dame in the regular season and fourth-ranked Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl in the semifinal game of the College Football Playoff.

The Tigers had a school record 17-game winning streak entering the national championship game with Alabama, and have won 37 in a row over unranked teams. Clemson's final No. 2 ranking is the second highest final ranking in school history. Clemson was ranked No. 1 in the nation for all six weeks of the College Football Playoff Poll.

SWINNEY ERA REACHES 102 GAMES

The ACC Championship game was the 100th game for Dabo Swinney as Clemson's head coach. He became the interim head coach on October 13, 2008 and was given the job without the interim title on December 1, 2008.

Swinney had a 74-26 record for his first 100 games. When he defeated South Carolina he moved into third place on Clemson's career coaching victories list. He moved ahead of his predecessor Tommy Bowden, who had 72 wins and 45 losses in his nine plus years as head coach.

It is interesting to note that Swinney had a .740 winning percentage with his 74-26 mark at the 100-game mark. Danny Ford, the only Clemson coach to win a National Championship, was 72-24-4 for his first 100 games. That computes to a .740 winning percentage, the exact same as Swinney.

Swinney is the fourth Clemson coach to lead the Tigers for at least 100 games. Frank Howard (295), Ford (129) and Bowden (117) are the others to do it.

The Oklahoma victory was Swinney's 15th against a top 25 team and he is now in second place in Clemson history in career top 25 wins. Tommy Bowden had 13 wins during his career from 1999-2008. He was 13-23 against top 25 teams.

Danny Ford has the record with 20 wins over top 25 teams in his Clemson coaching career from 1978-89. Ford was 20-12-1 against top 25 teams in his Clemson coaching career.

SWINNEY HAS BEATEN SEVEN OF WINNINGEST ACTIVE FBS COACHES

According to data on Sports-Reference.com, there are 11 active coaches with at least five full years of experience at the FBS level with a winning percentage of at least 70 percent. Dabo Swinney is one of the 11 with a .735 winning percentage, eighth best in the nation among active coaches with at least five years in the FBS.

It is interesting to note that since 2011, Swinney has beaten seven of the other 10 on the list with at least a 70 percent winning percentage. Brian Kelly of Notre Dame became the seventh different coach when Clemson defeated Notre Dame on October 3 by a 24-22 score at Clemson. He has beaten Bob Stoops, ranked fourth, each of the last two years.

A look to the list below shows that Swinney has beaten Urban Meyer of Ohio State (2013), Jimbo Fisher of Florida State (2011, 2015), Bob Stoops of Oklahoma (2014 and 2015), Mark Richt of Miami, then at Georgia (2013), Les Miles of LSU (2012), Bobby Petrino of Louisville (2014 and 2015) and Brian Kelly of Notre Dame (2015).

VENABLES NAMED NATION'S TOP RECRUITER

Clemson defensive coordinator Brent Venables was named the National Recruiter of the Year by Rivals.com. He was responsible for the recruitment of many of the future Clemson student-athletes in the signees class of 2016.

Clemson's recruiting class was ranked fifth best in the nation by Rivals in their final rankings. Alabama was first, followed by Florida State, Ohio State and Michigan.

Venables was also named the ACC Recruiter of the Year by Scout.com. In December, he was named one of five finalists for the Frank Broyles Award, the honor given to the nation's top assistant coach.

Venables just completed his fourth season as Clemson's defensive coordinator. The Tigers are 46-8 since he came to Clemson at the beginning of the 2012 season. The 2014 Clemson defense led the nation in total defense and this year's defense ranked 10th.

Clemson's No. 10 ranking in total defense and No. 2 ranking in completion percentage defense were significant accomplishments in 2015 considering Clemson had to replace eight defensive starters for the first time since 1979.

Clemson's defense helped the Tigers finish with a 14-1 record and No. 2 ranking in the final polls. The Tigers won the ACC Championship and defeated Oklahoma in the National Playoffs to move into the National Championship game against Alabama. Clemson's No. 2 final ranking is the best for the program since 1981 when the Tigers won the National Championship.

Teams Venables has been affiliated with as a full time assistant have now had at least 10 wins each of the last six year and for 16 of his 20 seasons at the FBS level. He coached at Kansas State and Oklahoma before coming to Clemson.

BOULWARE OUTSTANDING AGAIN IN BOWL ACTION

Ben Boulware played on defense in three bowl games in his Clemson career and has two interceptions. He is the first Clemson linebacker to have an interception in consecutive bowl games. In 2014 the junior raced 47 yards for a touchdown win an interception against Oklahoma in the Russell Athletic Bowl.

Then, in the 2015 Orange Bowl, Boulware was at it again with a fourth quarter one handed interception. It was a key play in Clemson's 37-17 victory. After the game, Boulware was named the Defensive Player of the Game. He finished with eight tackles, a sack, a pass break up and that interception.

GALLMAN SET RUSHING RECORD IN 2015

Clemson running back Wayne Gallman established the Clemson record for rushing yards in a season last year with 1527. It was one of many standards set by the sophomore running back from Grayson, Ga. In addition to the rushing yardage mark, he also set the record for most 100-yard rushing games with nine. He had three separate streaks of three 100-yard games in succession.

Gallman broke one other record of note with 1,740 yards from scrimmage. That is the summation of yards rushing and receiving. Gallman had 1527 rushing and 213 receiving. He broke the record of 1715 that had been set by C.J. Spiller in 2009. He had 1212 rushing and 503 receiving. Spiller still has the per game record as he played 14 games that year.

Gallman enters his junior year with 2,296 rushing yards on 444 attempts, a 5.17 average. He is 12th on the Clemson all-time rushing list, quite an accomplishment in just two seasons. His 5.17 yards per carry average is also 12th. Gallman needs 1670 rushing yards in 2016 to break Raymond Priester's record of 3,966 set between 1994-97.

GUILLERMO THREE-TIME ACC OFFENSIVE LINEMAN OF THE WEEK

Clemson center Jay Guillermo was named ACC Offensive Lineman of the Week for consecutive weeks in October, wins over Georgia Tech and Boston College.

Guillermo graded 88 percent on 78 plays and had three knockdown blocks in Clemson's 34-17 win over Georgia Tech on October 10. He was Clemson's highest graded offensive lineman according to the Tigers coaches for the second straight week.

He was a significant reason Clemson gained 532 yards of total offense against a Boston College team that was number-one in the nation in total defense allowing just 140 yards a game.

Guillermo was honored for a second straight week on October 17 when the Tigers defeated Boston College. Guillermo became the first Clemson offensive lineman to be named ACC Offensive Lineman of the Week for consecutive games since Barry Richardson did it against Maryland and Duke in 2007. The only other offensive linemen to win the honor in consecutive games are Lee Nanney (1980), John Phillips (1987), and Stacy Long (1989 and 1990).

He won his third award for his performance against South Carolina when he graded 93 percent.

HUEGEL LED NATION IN FIELD GOALS IN 2015

Clemson freshman walk-on Greg Huegel led the nation in total field goals made in 2015 with 27. It was also a Clemson single season mark. He also established the school mark for points in a season with 138, breaking a record that was held by C.J. Spiller.

Huegel was 18-19 in nine games against Atlantic Coast Conference foes, and that .947 percentage was second best in the nation against conference teams. He was 17-17 against the ACC in the regular season. He also led the nation in total field goals against top 25 teams with 10 and led the nation in points scored by kicking.

Huegel was also fifth in total points scored among all players. Some of the players ahead of him were Heisman Trophy winner Derrick Henry of Alabama, and Keenan Reynolds of Navy. He was tied with Ohio State running back Ezekiel Elliott and LSU running back Leonard Fournette.

HYATT SETS RECORD FOR PLAYS BY TRUE FRESHMAN OL

Mitch Hyatt started at left tackle in Clemson's 49-10 win over Wofford. It was a landmark start for the true freshman from Sugar Hill, Ga. Hyatt, who was a first-team Parade All-American and USA Today All-American coming out of North Gwinnett High School, became the first Clemson true freshman offensive tackle to start the season opener since 1944 when Phil Prince started the opener against Presbyterian.

Hyatt had a 92 percent grade from assistant coach Robbie Caldwell, and helped Clemson jump out to a 35-7 lead at intermission. He was one of the starting 11 that played six possessions and scored six touchdowns. He continued his fine play at Louisville and was Clemson's ACC Rookie of the Week nomination for that game off a 90 percent coaches film grade.

Hyatt was just the third true freshman to start the opening game of the year since Dabo Swinney took over on a full time basis in 2009. The others were Chandler Catanzaro (2010, PK) and Adam Humphries (2011, WR).

Hyatt was the first true freshman to start any position on the offensive line in the first game since 1980 when James Farr started the season opener at center against Rice. Hyatt was the ACC Offensive Lineman of the Week for the win over Florida State, the first Clemson true freshman to win the award and the first ACC true freshman to win it in at least 10 years.

Hyatt comes from good stock. His uncle, Dan Benish, played for the Tigers as a defensive tackle from 1979-82 and was first-team All-ACC in 1981 when Clemson won the National title. He also earned a Super Bowl Championship ring with the Washington Redskins in 1987.

Hyatt played 1049 snaps in 15 games in 2015, the most offensive plays by a Clemson true freshman at any position in history. The previous record for a freshman offensive lineman was 471 by Barry Richardson in 2004. On November 30 he was named third team all-ACC, the first Clemson true freshman lineman to make an All-ACC team.

LEGGETT CHALLENGING TIGHT END RECORDS

All-American tight end Jordan Leggett finished the 2015 season with 40 receptions for 525 yards and eight scores. His eight touchdowns tied a Clemson season record for a tight end.

The Mackey Award finalist did establish one record as he had at least one touchdown reception in five consecutive games, a record for a Clemson tight end. He added a score in the ACC Championship game against North Carolina, and scored Clemson's last touchdown of the year against Alabama.

Leggett enters his senior year with 66 career receptions for 862 yards and 11 touchdowns. He needs just 28 receptions, 394 yards and two touchdowns to become Clemson's career leader in all three areas for a tight end. John McMakin had 93 catches for 1255 yards and 12 touchdowns for Clemson between 1969-71 at the tight end position. Dwayne Allen and Brandon Ford also had 12 touchdown receptions.

RENFROW TOP RECEIVER IN POSTSEASON

With all the weapons Clemson had on offense last year, few expected that original walk-on Hunter Renfrow would tie for the most touchdowns scored among Tigers in the two College Football Playoff games. Renfrow and running back Wayne Gallman both had three touchdowns in the two games combined, a 37-17 win over Oklahoma and a 45-40 loss to Alabama.

Renfrow had seven catches for 88 yards and two touchdowns against Alabama in the Championship game and also had 4-59 and a score in the win over Oklahoma. For the year, Renfrow had 33 receptions for 492 yards and five scores. He averaged 14.9 yards per catch for the season.

SCOTT TOP FIVE IN CLEMSON HISTORY IN RECEPTIONS

Clemson has a national reputation for producing great wide receivers. The Tigers had five former receivers in the NFL last year, including Pro Bowler DeAndre Hopkins of the Houston Texans.

Artavis Scott had 93 receptions last year, the second highest total in Clemson history. Only the 101 catches by Sammy Watkins in 2013 are higher.

For his career, Scott enters his junior year with 169 career catches for 1866 yards and 14 touchdowns. His 169 career receptions rank fourth in school history and his 1866 yards rank 11th. He needs just 134 receiving yards to become the 10th receiver in Clemson history to reach 2000 career receiving yards. Scott, Sammy Watkins and DeAndre Hopkins are the only players in Clemson history with two seasons of at least 70 catches.

WATKINS WITH BIGGEST PLAY WITH NO CREDIT IN CLEMSON HISTORY?

When Clemson's defense stopped Notre Dame quarterback DeShone Kiser on a two-point conversion play with just seven seconds left, it basically gave Clemson a 24-22 win. That play will go down in Clemson history as one of the top plays.

When watching video of the play, it is apparent that junior defensive tackle Carlos Watkins took on two Notre Dame offensive linemen and still made the tackle at the one-yard-line, prohibiting Notre Dame from tying the game and sending it into overtime.

Officially, Watkins does not receive a tackle on the play. NCAA statistical rules only give credit to the scorer on an extra point play and no defensive statistics are credited.

Still, we feel Watkins play, although not on the stat sheet, will be remembered for a long time in Clemson history.

WATSON HEISMAN TROPHY FINALIST

Clemson sophomore quarterback Deshaun Watson was named one of three finalists for the 2015 Heisman Trophy. Watson was joined at the ceremony in New York by Derrick Henry of Alabama, and Christian McCaffrey of Stanford.

Watson was Clemson's first Heisman Trophy finalist. Steve Fuller finished sixth in the 1978 voting and C.J. Spiller was sixth in the 2009 voting, but neither received an invitation to New York. Those are the only Clemson players to finish in the top 10 of the Heisman Trophy voting since the award began in 1935. Watson finished with 1165 poll points on 148 first place votes, 240 second place and 241 third place.

WATSON'S NATIONAL RANKINGS

Clemson quarterback Deshaun Watson became the first quarterback in FBS history to reach 4,000 yards passing and 1,000 yards rushing in the same season in 2015. He had some high national rankings in other areas as well. His 1,105 rushing yards were third best among FBS quarterbacks, he was fifth in completion percentage (.678) eighth in total offense/game (347.3) and 12th in passing efficiency (156.25).

It is interesting to note that Homer Jordan ranked 12th in the nation in passing efficiency in 1981 when he quarterbacked Clemson to a 12-0 record and the national title. So both quarterbacks, from the state of Georgia, who led Clemson to its top two winningest seasons had the same national ranking in passing efficiency.

Jordan's efficiency of that year was 133.4, so it shows how the game has changed. Watson had the same ranking, but his efficiency was 156.25.

The top of the next column lists some of his national rankings and how they fared in Clemson history:

WATSON WINS MANNING AWARD

Clemson sophomore quarterback Deshaun Watson was named the recipient of the 12th annual Manning Award for the 2015 season. The Manning Award was created by the Allstate Sugar Bowl to honor the college football accomplishments of Archie, Peyton and Eli Manning. It is the only quarterback award that takes into consideration the candidates' bowl performances in its balloting. The award is voted on by a panel of local and national media, as well as each of the Mannings.

Watson is the first Clemson quarterback to win the award. In December, Watson was also the recipient of the Davey O'Brien Award as the nation's top quarterback.

Watson completed 333 of 491 passes for 4,104 yards and 35 touchdowns. Rushing, he had 207 carries for 1,105 yards and 12 scores. His 5,209 yards of total offense and his 47 total touchdowns set ACC records. His rushing total was a record for a Clemson quarterback.

Nationally, Watson ranked first in the nation in QBR (87.8), third in the nation in points responsible for with 282, was fifth in completion percentage (.678), was eighth in touchdown passes with 35, eighth in total offense per game (347.3) and was 12th in passing efficiency at 156.3.

Watson was named the consensus All-America quarterback, was third in the Heisman Trophy balloting, won the Archie Griffin National Player of the Year, was the Most Valuable Player of the Atlantic Coast Conference and was the MVP of the ACC Championship game and the Orange Bowl.

Watson had 405 yards passing and 73 yards rushing for 478 yards of total offense against Alabama's No. 2 ranked defense in the National Championship game. The Crimson Tide defeated Clemson, 45-40.

Watson's 478 yards of total offense set a record for a national championship game. The Tigers signal caller completed the season with 4,104 yards passing and 1,105 yards rushing and became the first player in FBS history to have at least 4,000 yards passing and 1,000 yards rushing in the same season.

WATSON SETS ACC TOTAL OFFENSE RECORD

Deshaun Watson broke the ACC record for total offense in a season in the Orange Bowl win over Oklahoma. He had 187 yards passing and 145 rushing for 332 yards total. He then had 478 yards against Alabama's then No. 2 ranked total defense to finish the season with 5,209. He not only set the ACC record, but he was the first ACC player to reach 5,000 yards.

Watson also broke the Clemson total offense record for a season in the win over Oklahoma. Tajh Boyd had that mark with 4410 yards in 2012, his junior season.

Watson was one of two ACC players with over 4000 yards total offense in 2015. North Carolina's Marquise Williams had 4020 yards for North Carolina, the team that faced Clemson in the ACC Championship game.

Watson also became the first player in FBS history with at least 4,000 yards passing and 1,000 yards rushing in the same season. He had three of the top total offense games in Clemson history in 2015 and now has four of the top 10 in school history. He has four of the 10 games a Clemson player has had over 450 yards in a game.

WATSON 18-2 AS A STARTING QUARTERBACK

Clemson sophomore quarterback Deshaun Watson is now 18-2 as the starting quarterback for the Tigers. He was 4-1 as a freshman and was 14-1 in 2015. His first loss took place at Georgia Tech in 2014 when he played just the first 18 plays of the game, then had to leave due to a knee injury. His only other loss was to Alabama in the 2015 National title game.

WILLIAMS, WIGGINS RETURN

Clemson has eight returning starters on offense and four on defense for 2016, but the Tigers do have two returning players who were considered starters in 2014 who missed last year due to injury.

Mike Williams was a second-team All-ACC wide receiver in 2014 who missed almost all of last season with a neck injury. On the first drive of the season against Wofford, Williams had two catches for 20 yards and a touchdown. But he hit the goal post and suffered a season ending neck injury.

Williams had a breakout sophomore year in 2014 when he had 57 catches for 1030 yards and six touchdowns. He was seventh in the nation in yards per catch (18.1) among players with at least 50 catches in 2014. He is the only active player on the roster with a 1000-yard receiving season.

Wiggins started six games at a linebacker position in 2014 and had 40 tackles, including 3.5 tackles for loss and two interceptions. He played 521 snaps that year and is a veteran of 813 for his career. Clemson finished first in the nation in total defense in 2014.

HEAD COACH DABO SWINNEY

There is a strong coaching heritage over the 120 years of Clemson football that dates to the early 1900s, when John Heisman led the program. Jess Neely and Frank Howard continued the winning and joined Heisman in the College Football Hall of Fame. Danny Ford, a finalist for the Hall of Fame last year, led Clemson to the 1981 National Championship.

Dabo Swinney has been at Clemson for just eight years as head coach, but he has cemented himself among the Tiger legends of the past. He will be the first person to tell you that the program has not reached all of its goals just yet, but he took the 2015 Tigers to the brink of winning the program's second National Championship.

Swinney guided Clemson to the No. 1 national ranking in every College Football Playoff poll in 2015, and led the Tigers to their first National Championship Game appearance under the new format after his team defeated Oklahoma 37-17 in the Capital One Orange Bowl on December 31. The Tigers led Alabama in the fourth quarter of the championship game, but came up just short, 45-40, in an epic game in Glendale, Ariz.

Following the team's 14-1 record and No. 2 final ranking, he was the recipient of 10 National and two ACC Coach-of-the-Year honors. The win over Oklahoma made him just the second coach in college football history (joining Alabama's Bear Bryant) to beat the Sooners in two different bowl games.

Clemson's 13th win, which came against North Carolina in the ACC Championship Game on December 5, established a single-season school record. It was the Tigers' 15th ACC Championship, matching Florida State for most in history. All told, the Tigers defeated four teams that finished the season in the top 15 of both polls, Oklahoma, Notre Dame, North Carolina and Florida State.

He coached Deshaun Watson to a record-setting sophomore season. The quarterback became Clemson's first Heisman Trophy finalist after becoming the first player in FBS history to pass for at least 4,000 yards and rush for at least 1,000 yards in a season.

Watson was named the ACC Player-of-the-Year and Most Valuable Player of the ACC Championship Game and Capital One Orange Bowl, in addition to being a finalist for most national offensive awards. He took home the Davey O'Brien and Manning awards, given annually to the nation's top quarterback.

Also in 2015, a record 17 players were named to one of three All-ACC teams in 2015, including all five starting offensive linemen for the first time in school history.

The 2012, 2013 and 2014 seasons were also noteworthy, with three top-15 final rankings in the polls. Clemson joined Alabama, Florida State, Ohio State and Oregon as the only schools in the nation to make that claim. Each of Clemson's teams from 2011-15 also won 10+ games, the first time the program has done it five straight seasons. Only Alabama has duplicated the feat.

Over the past five seasons, Clemson has compiled a 56-12 record, the most wins in a five-year period in school history. Thirty-six of the victories have come against ACC teams. The 2015 seniors finished their careers with a 46-8 record, including a 29-4 mark in the ACC.

Clemson was in the top 10 of APR scores and the final top 25 of the AP and USA Today polls in 2011, 2012, 2013 and 2014, the only FBS program that could make that claim.

In eight years (seven full seasons) as the Tigers' head coach, Swinney has directed Clemson to a 75-27 overall record (.735) and a 47-14 ACC regular-season mark (.770). He has also led the Tigers to the ACC Championship game three times, won two ACC Championships, won or shared four ACC Atlantic Division titles, and won five bowl games.

In 2014, Clemson overcame a slew of season-ending injuries and a difficult road schedule to register a 10-3 overall record and 6-2 mark in ACC regular-season games. Evidence of the mass injuries were shown by the fact that 48 different Tigers started at least one game among the 24 regular positions.

The Tigers finished the 2014 season ranked No. 15 in both the AP and coaches polls and was No. 17 in the final College Football Playoff ranking. The top-15 ranking marked the fourth straight year Clemson finished ranked in the polls under Swinney, who was named 2014 Grant Teaff National Coach-of-the-Year by FCA. He was also a finalist for the 2014 Bobby Dodd National Coach-of-the-Year Award, and won the Gene Stallings Award. Swinney's Tigers joined Alabama, Florida State and Oregon as the only schools in the nation ranked in the top 25 of the final polls each season from 2011-14.

Losses at No. 12 Georgia and No. 1 Florida State within Clemson's first three games of the 2014 season saw the Tigers in contention in the fourth quarter in both, including an overtime loss to the Seminoles. But Clemson rebounded and won its next six games, all against ACC foes.

With the 2014 Russell Athletic Bowl win over Oklahoma and Head Coach Bob Stoops by a score of 40-6, Swinney became the first and only coach in history to win three bowl games in consecutive seasons over teams whose head coaches had previously won the national title.

Defense was the key to success for the 2014 Tigers, as they led in the nation in total defense, pass efficiency defense, first downs allowed, third-down conversion percentage defense and tackles for loss along with being in the top five in many other defensive categories.

Defensive end Vic Beasley was named ACC Defensive Player-of-the-Year as well as being a finalist for multiple national awards and a first-team All-American thanks to his 21.5 tackles for loss and 12 sacks. All season, he led active players in the nation in career tackles for loss (52.5) and career sacks (33). Linebacker Stephone Anthony and defensive tackle Grady Jarrett joined Beasley as First-Team All-ACC selections. Beasley and Anthony were both first-round draft choices in May 2015.

Clemson's young 2014 offense was set back with the injury to first-year freshman quarterback Deshaun Watson, who suffered injuries that forced him to miss more than half the season. He still had 14 passing touchdowns against only two interceptions and a 188.6 passing efficiency, one of the best figures in the country.

The Tigers' top pass catcher (Artavis Scott) and rusher (Wayne Gallman) were also freshmen. Scott had 76 receptions for 965 yards and eight touchdowns, while Gallman had 769 rushing yards and four touchdowns.

Clemson capped off the 2013 season with a thrilling 40-35 victory over No. 6 Ohio State in the Orange Bowl. Clemson had an 11-2 record after finishing 7-1 in ACC regular-season games for the second year in a row. It marked Clemson's first back-to-back 11-win seasons in school history. The Tigers had a 4-0 record in ACC road games, the first time that happened since 1995.

The Tigers were No. 12 in the final BCS standings. It was the third straight year Clemson finished in the top 15 of the BCS standings, one of only six schools that could make that claim. Clemson, who was ranked No. 7 in the final USA Today poll and No. 8 in the final AP poll, was also one of only five programs ranked in the top 20 of every BCS standing from 2011 to 2013.

For the fourth time in his first five full seasons as head coach, Swinney was a finalist for the Liberty Mutual National Coach-of-the-Year Award in 2013. Swinney was also one of 16 semifinalists for national coach-of-the-year by the Maxwell Football Club Collegiate Coach-of-the-Year Award for the second year in a row.

The Clemson offense continued to put up record-setting numbers in 2013, as it averaged 40.2 points and 507.7 yards per game. The Tiger defense also finished in the top 25 in the nation in scoring defense, total defense and turnovers forced. Clemson joined Florida State as the only schools in the nation to finish in the top 25 in the nation in scoring offense, scoring defense, total offense and total defense.

Tajh Boyd broke almost every Clemson career record for quarterbacks thanks in part to 2013, when he completed 68.5 percent of his passes for 3,851 yards and 34 touchdowns. He also added a team-high 10 rushing touchdowns. Boyd's 107 career passing touchdowns and 133 total touchdowns were ACC records as well.

Sammy Watkins was a finalist for the Biletnikoff Award and was a first-team All-American, as he had 101 receptions for 1,464 yards and 12 touchdowns. He established Tiger career records for receptions, receiving yards and tied the receiving touchdowns mark as well.

Along with Boyd's selection as a Second-Team All-ACC pick, offensive tackle Brandon Thomas, offensive guard Tyler Shatley, running back Roderick McDowell and placekicker Chandler Catanzaro were also named to the All-ACC squad on offense.

Beasley, who led the ACC in sacks (13) and added 23 tackles for loss, was a Consensus All-America selection. Defensive back Bashaud Breeland along with linebackers Spencer Shuey and Anthony also earned All-ACC honors on defense.

The 2012 season (11-2) was a groundbreaking year for Swinney's Tigers when looking at the overall consistency of the program.

The seven conference wins in the regular season set a school record, while Clemson was co-champion of the ACC Atlantic Division. The school record for consecutive wins at Memorial Stadium (13) was also established, as was the record for consecutive wins by 14+ points (7).

With Clemson's thrilling 25-24 win over No. 7 Louisiana State in the 2012 Chick-fil-A Bowl, the Tigers finished the season ranked No. 9 in the USA Today poll. It was Clemson's first top-10 finish in one of the two major polls since 1990. Clemson also reached the 11-win mark for the first time since its 1981 National Championship season. The Tigers finished No. 14 in the final BCS standings as well.

The 2012 campaign featured a record-setting offense. Clemson had six of the 11 offensive players on the All-ACC first team chosen by the media and set over 80 Tiger team and individual records.

Leading the way was Boyd, the ACC Player-of-the-Year. The quarterback joined center Dalton Freeman as first-team All-Americans by AFCA, just the third time since 1945 that the AFCA first-team All-America quarterback and center were from the same school.

Boyd's favorite wide receiver, DeAndre Hopkins, had 18 receiving touchdowns, second-most in the nation, and was a second-team All-American. He was a big reason Clemson scored a then school-record 533 points.

Swinney was a finalist for the 2012 Liberty Mutual National Coach-of-the-Year Award for the third time. He was also one of 16 semifinalists for national coach-of-the-year by the Maxwell Football Club Collegiate Coach-of-the-Year Award.

Swinney's 2011 squad, which ended the season ranked No. 22 in the nation, captured Clemson's first ACC title since 1991 when it beat No. 3 Virginia Tech 38-10 in the ACC Championship game in Charlotte, N.C. It tied for the highest-ranked team the Tigers defeated in history. The win, the Tigers' second over the Hokies in 2011, gave Clemson its first 10-win season since 1990. The Tigers' four wins over top-25 ranked teams established a school record. Swinney has 18 top-25 wins in his head-coaching career, including nine victories over top-10 teams.

The Tigers jumped out to an 8-0 record and a No. 6 national ranking after being unranked in the preseason. Games 3-5 marked a tough stretch, as Clemson hosted No. 19 Auburn, who entered with a national-best 17-game winning streak, and No. 11 Florida State along with a road game at No. 10 Virginia Tech. The Tigers were victorious in all three contests by scores of 38-24, 35-30 and 23-3, respectively, marking the first time in history that an ACC team won three consecutive games over top-25 ranked (AP) teams. Clemson also held Virginia Tech without a touchdown for the first time in a game at Blacksburg since 1995.

For his efforts, Swinney was named Bobby Dodd National Coach-of-the-Year in 2011 to become the first Tiger head coach to win a national coach-of-the-year award since 1981, when Danny Ford directed Clemson to the national title.

Swinney, who was also one of five finalists for the Eddie Robinson National Coach-of-the-Year Award, one of 10 finalists for the Bear Bryant National Coach-of-the-Year Award, one of 10 finalists for the Liberty Mutual Coach-of-the-Year Award and received the Regional AFCA Coach-of-the-Year Award in 2011, led the Tigers to their first Orange Bowl berth since 1981 with the help of five First-Team All-ACC players.

Dwayne Allen (TE), Boyd (QB), Andre Branch (DE), Freeman (C) and Watkins (WR) all earned first-team honors, while Andre Ellington (RB), Catanzaro (PK) and Brandon Thompson (DT) earned second-team honors. Watkins was also Second-Team All-ACC as a specialist.

Allen received the John Mackey Award as the nation's top tight end and totaled 50 receptions for 598 yards and eight touchdowns. Boyd set the school record for total yards (4,046), passing yards (3,828) and passing touchdowns (33), all marks he eclipsed in subsequent seasons. Branch, a finalist for the Hendricks Award, had an ACC-high 17 tackles for loss and an ACC-high 10.5 sacks, including tying school-records for tackles for loss (6) and sacks (4) in Clemson's win at No. 10 Virginia Tech. Freeman was a finalist for the Rimington Trophy as well.

Watkins was one of the most dynamic freshmen in the nation. The ACC Rookie-of-the-Year totaled 82 receptions for 1,219 yards and 12 touchdowns along with a 25.0-yard average and one touchdown on kickoff returns despite missing one game due to injury. Watkins teamed up with Ellington to give Clemson a 1,000-yard receiver and 1,000-yard rusher, as Ellington had 1,178 rushing yards and 11 rushing touchdowns. Watkins was also an AP First-Team All-American, just the fourth in college football history as a first-year freshman.

Swinney became just the second Tiger coach to lead Clemson's program into a bowl game in his first two full years as head coach, joining his predecessor, Bowden. The 2010 schedule was one of the most challenging in school history, as nine bowl teams were on the regular-season slate and two of the four non-conference opponents were ranked in the top 25, just the second time in 21 years the Tigers faced two top-25 non-conference opponents in the regular season.

The 2010 season included wins over bowl teams Georgia Tech, Maryland and NC State. NC State was ranked No. 23 in the nation and was leading the ACC in scoring. But the defense held NC State and Russell Wilson to just one touchdown and 13 points. The team excelled defensively in 2010 and was 13th in the nation in scoring defense and in the top 25 in both total defense and passing defense.

C.J. Spiller was a unanimous first-team All-American in 2009 and Da'Quan Bowers duplicated the feat on the defense a year later. Bowers won the 2010 Nagurski Award as the nation's top defensive player and he received the Hendricks Award as the country's top defensive end. He was also a finalist for the Bednarik Award and Lombardi Award. He led the nation in sacks (15.5) and tied for the national lead in tackles for loss (26).

Bowers was one of four First-Team All-ACC players in 2010, as he joined Jarvis Jenkins (DT) and DeAndre McDaniel (S) on defense and Chris Hairston (OT) on offense. Clemson and Maryland tied for the most First-Team All-ACC selections.

In 2009, Swinney's first full year as head coach, he led the Tigers to their first championship of the ACC's Atlantic Division. The Tigers came just six points short of winning their first ACC title in 18 years. Swinney was named ACC Coach-of-the-Year by Sporting News and was a finalist for the Liberty Mutual Coach-of-the-Year Award.

Swinney accumulated nine wins, second-most among FBS coaches in their first full year behind Oregon's Chip Kelly. The nine wins tied for fourth-most in ACC history for a first-year head coach. He also led the Tigers to their first bowl win since 2005 in the 21-13 victory over Kentucky in the Music City Bowl.

The Tigers reached the nine-win mark playing a schedule that included four games against top-15 opponents, just the second year in school history (1999 was the other) that Clemson played four games against teams ranked in the top 15 of the AP poll. The Tigers' three FBS non-conference opponents had a combined record of 29-10 in 2009. Clemson gave Rose Bowl-bound TCU one of its stiffest tests in a 14-10 Horned Frog victory on Sept. 26.

Swinney's first season included a six-game winning streak at midseason, a streak that saw the Tigers score 34+ points in every contest, a first in school history. During that stretch, the Tigers defeated No. 8 Miami (Fla.) on the road. The 40-37 overtime victory tied for the highest-ranked team Clemson has defeated on the road in history.

That was the second of six straight wins, the longest winning streak for the Clemson program in four years. The streak also included a 40-24 win over Florida State and Bobby Bowden, the Hall of Fame coach who is first in victories in FBS history. The winning streak brought Clemson to a No. 15 national ranking in the AP poll after the ACC Atlantic Division clinching victory over Virginia on Nov. 21.

The Tigers had success on offense, defense and special teams during the 2009 season. They were 28th in the nation and third in the ACC in scoring offense (31.1), while the defense was 20th in total defense (314.3) and seventh in pass defense (162.8). Clemson tied for fifth in the country in interceptions (21) as well.

Clemson added a school-record six kick returns for touchdowns in 2009, four on kickoff returns and two on punt returns.

The main reason Clemson was so outstanding on special teams was the play of college football's most dynamic player (Spiller) in 2009. The Tiger running back was named MVP of the ACC in 2009 and was a Consensus All-American. He had five kick returns for touchdowns during the 2009 season, an all-time Clemson record, and established the NCAA record for kickoff returns for touchdowns in a career with seven. He was also the only FBS player to score at least one touchdown in every game in 2009.

Overall, the Tigers held down three positions on the All-ACC First-Team and five spots on the second team. Only Virginia Tech had more representatives.

In October 2008, he was named Clemson interim head coach, replacing Tommy Bowden, who had been his position coach as a player at Alabama and was Clemson's head coach since 1999. He led the Tigers to a 4-2 record over the remainder of the 2008 regular season, including a win over South Carolina in the regular-season finale. That strong finish led to a Gator Bowl bid against Nebraska.

On Dec. 1, 2008, the interim tag was removed from the title and he was named the program's head coach. At the time, there had been 28 interim head coaches at the FBS level since 1970 and those coaches had combined for a record of 26-86-2. Only one of those 28 interim coaches posted a winning record, and that was Swinney. When he was hired as the head coach, Swinney became just the second interim coach to be elevated to the head coach position at the same school during that time period.

Swinney hit the ground running in his first week as interim head coach, as he prepared for a 5-1 Georgia Tech team. He had to reorganize his staff and regroup his team and Clemson Nation in just five days. While the Tigers lost by four points, he accomplished many goals in that first week through his outstanding leadership. One of the most impressive demonstrations of unity came during the team's "Tiger Walk."

Prior to the game against the Yellow Jackets, Swinney decided to have his team depart buses outside the Lot 5 parking lot near the WestZone at Memorial Stadium and experience the gameday atmosphere. Dressed in jackets and ties, the team was embraced by thousands of Tiger fans who stood 10 deep for the 200-yard march to the stadium. It was the centerpiece of his "All In" theme during his first week as head coach. It is a tradition that has continued.

In his second week as head coach, an off-week, he invited the Clemson student body to a practice, and nearly 1,000 students showed up. He spoke to the group and actually allowed some students to participate during practice, as they were selected to attempt a field goal, punt against a live rush and field a punt. He also took the entire team to the Greenville Children's Hospital for a visit with young men and women fighting cancer.

He has continued his community involvement through his foundation. His foundation made the first contribution to the cancer fund established for former Boston College linebacker Mark Herzlich. Many schools followed his lead the remainder of the season.

The Liberty Mutual Coach-of-the-Year Award evaluates coaching performances in terms of coaching excellence, sportsmanship, integrity, academic excellence and community commitment. It is easy to see why Swinney was a national finalist for that award in his first full season as head coach in 2009, and again in 2011, 2012 and 2013.

The 1993 Alabama graduate joined the Clemson staff prior to the 2003 season. In his 13 years as an assistant or head coach, the Tigers have finished in the top 25 of the polls nine times and have totaled 24 wins over top-25 teams, including victories over Florida State (6), Auburn (2), Miami (Fla.) (2), Oklahoma (2), Virginia Tech (2), Georgia (1), Louisiana State (1), Ohio State (1) and Tennessee (1) during his tenure in Tigertown. That includes 15 top-25 wins as a head coach.

Swinney coached his wide receiver position to a level of consistency that had not been seen previously at Clemson. He had a wideout finish first or second in the ACC in catches in five of his six years as an assistant coach. In his first year, he had three of the top-10 receivers in the ACC, a first in Tiger history. He has coached a First or Second-Team All-ACC wideout (Derrick Hamilton, Airese Currie, Chansi Stuckey, Aaron Kelly, Jacoby Ford, Watkins, Hopkins, Scott, Mike Williams) in 12 of his 13 seasons in Tigertown, also an unprecedented feat at Clemson.

In 2004 and 2005, he coached the ACC reception champion (Currie (2004), Stuckey (2005)). It was the first time Clemson had two different players lead the ACC in receptions in consecutive years. In 2007, Kelly led the ACC in yards, giving Swinney an ACC receiving king three out of four years. Stuckey earned First-Team All-ACC honors in back-to-back years, a first for a Tiger wide receiver in 25 years.

In 2007, Swinney coached Kelly, a First-Team All-ACC selection who led the league in receiving yards per game and touchdown catches (11). He also finished second in receptions per game with 88 catches.

The Alabama native has a reputation as one of the top recruiters in the nation. In 2006, he was listed as the No. 5 recruiter in the nation by Rivals. It marked the second straight year that he was lauded by the website as a top-25 national recruiter. He signed 38 players in his five recruiting seasons as an assistant coach and was a major reason Clemson's 2008 recruiting class was rated No. 2 in the nation by ESPN.com when he signed 11 players. He was named one of the top-25 recruiters in the nation by Rivals.com in 2007 as well.

When Swinney accepted the interim head coaching position on Oct. 13, 2008, he described his feelings as "bittersweet," because he was taking over for Bowden, who had been his first position coach at Alabama in 1989. He had also brought Swinney back to the coaching profession in 2003 and has had a profound effect on his life. Both had followed similar paths as players, as Bowden was a walk-on at West Virginia and Swinney was a walk-on at Alabama.

Swinney received a commerce & business administration degree from Alabama in 1993 after lettering three times (1990-92). A walk-on who went on to earn a scholarship, Swinney was a wide receiver on Alabama's 1992 National Championship team. He was also named Academic All-SEC along with being an SEC Scholar-Athlete Honor Roll member in 1990 and 1992.

Along with his appearance in the 1993 Sugar Bowl, his Alabama teams played in the 1990 Sugar Bowl, 1991 Fiesta Bowl and 1991 Blockbuster Bowl. Both Sugar Bowl appearances came after winning the SEC Championship game.

After his playing career, Swinney served as a graduate assistant from 1993-95 at Alabama, where he coached in the 1994 Gator Bowl and 1995 Citrus Bowl. In December 1995, he received a master's degree in business administration from Alabama.

He became a full-time assistant coach at Alabama in February 1996 under Head Coach Gene Stallings (now in the Hall of Fame) and coached a total of five seasons there on a full-time basis. Swinney was assigned to coach the Crimson Tide's wide receivers and tight ends in 1996, a season that saw Alabama win the SEC Western Division title and make an Outback Bowl appearance. The following year, he solely coached the tight ends under Head Coach Mike DuBose.

In 1998, he coached Alabama's wide receivers, a position he held for three seasons. At the end of the 1999 campaign, Swinney coached the Crimson Tide in the 2000 Orange Bowl after winning the SEC Championship game. Wide receiver Freddie Milons was the game MVP.

During his time at Alabama, Swinney was a part of six teams with 10+ wins, five top-10 finishes, one national title (1992), three SEC Championships (1989, 92, 99) and five SEC Western Division titles (1992, 93, 94, 96, 99) as a player and coach.

As an assistant coach, he had 20 players either drafted or sign free-agent contracts with NFL teams. The list includes Hamilton, Currie, Kevin Youngblood, Stuckey and Milons, an All-American at Alabama.

From April 2001 to February 2003, Swinney was in private business in Alabama. He married the former Kathleen Bassett in 1994. They have three sons, Will (17), Drew (15) and Clay (12).
